

PERFORMANCE DATA FOR PORTFOLIOS AVAILABLE IN PACIFIC LIFE'S VARIABLE UNIVERSAL LIFE INSURANCE PRODUCTS

Pacific Life's variable universal life insurance products offer a wide variety of variable investment options. Each variable investment option invests in a corresponding portfolio of the Pacific Select Fund (PSF), BlackRock Variable Series Funds, Fidelity® Variable Insurance Products Funds, Franklin Templeton Variable Insurance Products Trust, GE Investment Funds, Inc., Janus Aspen Series, Lazard Retirement Series, Inc., Legg Mason Partners Variable Equity Portfolios (LMPV), Lord Abbett Series Fund, Inc., MFS Variable Insurance Trust, Royce Capital Fund, T. Rowe Price Equity Series, or Van Eck VIP Trust. Rates of returns reported are based on past performance and neither guarantee nor predict future investment results. The portfolios' returns shown only reflect fund level fees and expenses, and reinvestment of dividends and distributions. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance quoted. Actual rates of returns and values will fluctuate. The value of accumulation units, when redeemed, may be greater or less than the original costs. Accumulated values of the variable life insurance policy will depend on a number of factors, including the policy owner's allocations to the variable investment options and the experience of those variable investment options. Returns do not include any policy fees or expenses, which include premium loads, cost of insurance, policy administrative fees and charges, mortality and expense risk charges, surrender charges, or any other charges that may be incurred under the policy. Policy returns would be significantly lower after all policy fees and expenses are deducted. Policy cash values could be less than the total premiums paid. Policy fees and expenses vary by product, and some fees and expenses, such as Cost of Insurance, will vary according to insured's age, sex distinct or unisex rates, smoking status, face amount, and any applicable substandard rating. Please see the applicable product and underlying fund prospectus for detailed information. You are encouraged to ask your insurance professional for a personalized illustration reflecting the effects of policy fees and expenses with a hypothetical rate of return. Call (800)800-7681 for the fixed account rates.

* The American Funds Asset Allocation, American Funds Growth-Income, and American Funds Growth Portfolios of Pacific Select Fund invest their assets in the American Funds Insurance Series Master Asset Allocation Fund, the Master Growth-Income Fund, and the Master Growth Fund, respectively ("Master Funds"). Capital Research and Management Company is the manager of the Master Funds.

Lipper determines the categories and classifications by reviewing portfolio holdings and associated fundamental financial characteristics. The Lipper classification is a two-step process. First it is assigned a market capitalization of small-, mid-, multi-, or large-cap, and second, it is assigned a style of core, growth, or value.

Performance information for each of the portfolios is provided by the respective underlying fund groups. Returns for some of the underlying portfolios predate their availability in the separate accounts. A separate account is a type of Investment Company referred to as a unit investment trust which is registered in the Securities Exchange Commission under the Investment Company Act of 1940.

Understanding Risks

Every variable investment option has some degree of risk depending on what it invests in and what strategies it uses. While all variable investment options are subject to market risk, some investment options may experience greater volatility than others. The variable investment options are not FDIC insured or guaranteed. Before investing you should carefully read the applicable fund prospectuses.

High Yield portfolios invest in high yield bonds and have greater credit risk than higher quality bonds.

Floating rate loans involve greater risk of default on interest and principal payments or price changes due to changes in credit quality of the issuer.

Small and emerging growth company stocks may be riskier and more volatile than larger, more established company stocks.

International investing is subject to currency fluctuations and political changes.

Real estate portfolios involve risks such as refinancing, economic impact on industry, changes in property values, dependency on management skills, and risks similar to small company investing.

Sector portfolios and concentrated portfolios with fewer securities may be subject to greater price volatility.

Hard assets investments include special risks such as variations in the value of real estate, the value of precious metals, and other hard asset securities. Hard assets prices may move independently of the trends of industrial companies.

Short positions pose a risk because they lose value as a security's price increases; therefore, the loss on a short sale is theoretically unlimited. Leverage can increase market exposure and magnify investment risk.

The Cash Management Portfolio is not FDIC insured or guaranteed; its net asset value is not constant and will change with the value of investments.

Asset allocation is the process of distributing investments among varying classes of investments (e.g., stocks and bonds). It does not guarantee future results, assure a profit, or protect against loss.

Although some portfolios may have names or investment objectives that resemble retail mutual funds managed by the portfolio manager, these portfolios will not have the same underlying holdings or performance as the retail mutual funds.

This performance sheet is authorized for distribution only when preceded or accompanied by the currently effective prospectuses for a Pacific Life variable universal life insurance product and underlying funds. You should carefully consider a variable life insurance product's risks, charges, limitations and expenses, as well as the risks, charges, expenses, and investment objectives of the underlying investment options. Read the prospectuses carefully before investing.
